WACKENHUT ANNOUNCES PROMOTIONS AT SRS

Aiken, S.C. – Wackenhut Services Incorporated, the security contractor at the Department of Energy's Savannah River Site, is pleased to announce that James H. (Bud) Isom, Senior Vice President and General Manager at WSI-SRS since April 2005, has been named WSI's corporate Senior Vice President for Operations Support. As such, he will be responsible for integrating corporate acquisitions into WSI's organizational structure, and coordinating resource support to WSI's various business units.

"Bud Isom has transformed WSI-SRS into a top-performing organization capable of meeting DOE's rapidly changing security requirements," said Dave Foley, WSI President and CEO. "Our other business units will now benefit from his leadership and experience."

Randy Garver, currently Wackenhut's Assistant General Manager for Operations Support at SRS, has been elevated to the position of Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Mr. Garver joined WSI-SRS in May 2004 as Director of Training and was promoted to Assistant General Manager in February 2008 with oversight for all business management, security support, planning and infrastructure and workforce training.

"We have a successful team and the finest employees within the Department of Energy complex," said Mr. Garver. "I'm committed to building on our past achievements and ensuring that we continue as a high performing organization -- technically competent and mission focused."

Mr. Garver has over 36 years of experience in security management. Prior to joining WSI-SRS, he served 28 years in the U.S. Army and served 4 years in the U.S. Marine Corps. During Mr. Garver's distinguished military career, he served in a variety of troop and staff assignments that included leadership positions from squad leader to brigade commander.

Mr. Garver earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Morehead State University, and a Master of Public Administration from the University of Tennessee. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army War College National Security Strategist Course, and holds numerous professional affiliations.
